Club Membership Policy

The Club membership year runs from September 1 through August 31, and the policy of the Club is not to prorate membership dues. New members who join the Club before the Club's Midwest Fly Fishing Expo in March, will have their first year's membership paid through the end of the current membership year. New members who join the Club at or after the Expo, will have their first year's dues paid through the end of the following membership year. For example, if you join in January 2016, your membership will expire on August 31, 2016. If you join in April 2016, your membership will not expire until August 31, 2017.
